

"ID Chipping for Pets"

The Village Police Department is now equipped with a Universal Pet ID Chip Reader to help your lost your pet find its way home safely. The best way to protect your pet from getting lost is to keep your dog license information up to date with the County. But it is also an excellent idea to have your pet chipped, in case its collar gets left behind. Your vet can help you with acquiring a chip, and many pets coming from a breeder or rescue may already be chipped. However, the registration information on record may remain that of the breeder or rescue. It's worth getting your best friend's chip checked ahead of time, just to be sure. Your vet can help. You will need the chip ID Number to register the correct information with the chip company."
